

Snow Day Activities

Here are some of the things you could do on your snowy day;

- Go on a snow walk around your area. Whilst you are walking talk about the things you can see. Can you think of any adjectives to describe the snow?
- On your hunt see how many different types of footprints you can find. What animals do you think left them?
- Can you make a dinosaur footprint in the snow?
- Can you create an information poster about snow or weather?
- Design a dinosaur that could live in the snow. Remember to think about what type of skin it might need and how it will move around.
- Show your family what you have learnt in maths by practising counting in 2's and 10's. Can you write number sequences for each other to solve?
- Create a snowy day picture.
- Build a snowman with your family. Who can build the biggest?

Most of all enjoy some quality time together and make learning fun!
