

Year 6 Snow Day Homework

Most people across the UK will be affected in some way by this extreme weather. The activities below are for you to have a go at whilst we are closed. Choose one or two to complete.

Don't forget: you have your Grand Designs project, maths homework and online SPAG homework that you could valuably spend the time doing.

Literacy

- Write a poem
Write a snow poem about the wonders and difficulties of snow. Think about the advantages and disadvantages and how different people are affected. Use your senses to describe the snow. Illustrate when completed.
- Write a script for a news report
The snowy weather and its effects will inevitably be all over the news! Write your own TV news script. Maybe you could interview members of your family. If possible you could film your news report or record as a radio report.

Literacy/ICT

- Create a film
If you are allowed take charge of the video camera for an afternoon and script and create your own little film. You could star in it yourself or use your teddies /dollies /Lego men as characters - it's a great way to get involved in some creative role-play and fill a few snowy hours at home.

Art

- Draw or take a picture of your favourite snow scene from the last two days. Try to show the texture of the snow.

Maths

- Find out about the different levels of snow that have fallen around the UK. Produce a bar chart to show how different areas have been hit by this weather. You can use squared paper or plain paper for this. Add some facts to your work about your findings, such as most and least snow fallen in places.

DT / Maths

- Do some baking or design a snow day meal / snack. Write instructions for how to make it; draw it or take a photo.

Music

- Think of a song you know very well (could be a nursery rhyme, pop song or Christmas carol). Write some wintery or snow related lyrics of your own to go with the tune.
